

Action Renewables is committed to protecting the privacy of those using our site and the confidentiality of the personal information with which we are provided through the site. We comply with the Data Protection Act 1998 in all our dealings with personal information. You are entitled under the Act to access to any personal information we hold about you by writing to the address at the end of the Terms and Conditions.

By voluntarily submitting personal information on this site by use of the email facility, registering to participate in the Teachers Forum, and other means of collecting information, you are deemed to be consenting to your personal information being dealt with in accordance with the terms of this privacy statement.

We use your personal information for any purposes associated with our functions in connection with renewable energy and our education programme.

We will guard the personal information you share with us to ensure the content and services we provide on www.wiseuptorenewables.com (and related Action Renewables websites) are always tailored to your current, designated preferences and to ensure that your personal information is always used for the purposes described above.

Action Renewables will not sell, rent or lease your personal identifiable information to others. From time to time, we may use your information to provide you with information we think would be of particular interest or to contact you for market research purposes. At a minimum, we will always give you the opportunity to opt out of receiving such direct marketing or market research contact.

Unless we have your permission, or are required by law, we will only share the personal information you provide online with other Action Renewable-based organisations and/or business partners and the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment. Such organisations and business partners are governed by our privacy policies in respect to the use of personal information.

Action Renewables may occasionally present a special contest or promotion that is sponsored by another company. To qualify for entry, we may ask you to provide personal information. If we plan to share that information with the sponsor(s), we will provide an upfront statement to that effect.

We do not currently use cookies or other tracking systems to develop profiles of individual site visitors, but if we do so, we will inform you by revision of this privacy statement or otherwise if such a system enables us to collect your personal information.

Use of this site is subject to the following Terms and Conditions.

TEACHERS FORUM

This site will contain a discussion forum called the Teachers Forum ("the forum") where users can make contributions. Action Renewables is not responsible for and shall have no liability and expressly excludes all liability in relation to any expressions of opinion, data, information or any other material whatsoever which is submitted on this site by any user including in the use of the forum or otherwise. Action Renewables shall not be liable for any application of or reliance on any information contained on this site whether submitted via the forum or otherwise.

Under no circumstances should any user make any submission which is defamatory, abusive, obscene, unlawful, of a racist, sexist or other discriminatory nature, or which is otherwise offensive or could in the opinion of Action Renewables cause offence to any person or damage the reputation of Action Renewables, its associated bodies, clients or other contacts. Users must not use any abusive or aggressive language, swear, threaten, harass or abuse any other person, including other users. All users must use their own identity when making any contribution. No user may post or recommend any other web site or post any advertisement, which is not relevant to the discussion on the site.

Users must not corrupt the site, flood the site with information so as to cause the site not to function or use any features which may affect the function of the site for example viruses, worms, or logic bombs. Users must not interfere or tamper with, remove, delete or otherwise alter in any way, any information which is included on the site.

Action Renewables reserves the right to remove any material whatsoever submitted to the forum or otherwise to the site for any reason.

Where any user is in breach of these Terms and Conditions, Action Renewables may, but shall not be required, to provide a warning to such user for failure to comply. Further, Action Renewables has the right to ban any user at any time (whether or not any prior warning has been given) and shall have ultimate discretion in allowing persons to use the forum and/or the site.

Postings on the site (whether on message boards or via other methods of communication within the forum) will generally be available to, and freely accessible by, other users of the forum (whether or not such users are registered to participate in the forum). Therefore, users should not expect any information they post to be kept private or confidential and they are encouraged to exercise discretion when using the forum. Additionally, a user's member name will always be posted in conjunction with his/her posting in the forum. Action Renewables will not use information posted for purposes other than the management, administration or operation of the forum.
